The Limekiln Club on the Muscle.
 DETROIT Free Press.
 Major Abner Congreve gained the floor and the recognition of the chair, and said he had a matter of great importance to communicate to the club. He had long lived in the idea that Paradise hall should be connected with a gymnasium for the use of colored people only, and he was willing for one to take a liberal amount of money for the project of the kind and become a liberal patron. He believed that muscular development meant long life, and it had been proved that the colored people of Detroit had of late years entirely neglected muscular development, and that death was but a step away. "Gentlemen," replied Brother Congreve as he pushed up his sleeve, "I've got muscles 'nuff to row a tramp over two fencibles 'nuff to row a tramp over two fencibles 'nuff to row a tramp over two fencibles."

At all de wood pile. Right in his room are over 15 members who are above 60 years old and in de best of health. We have a lot of apples, green apples was de cause of dat. We don't want any better health, 'n we don't want any more muscles. If we do we kin secure it at de wood-pile, in de garden, or by handlin' de brush. De man who keeps himself clean, goes to bed early, has good food, and is alone will live just as long as de Lawd intended he should, 'n dat's long 'nuff for anybody. If Brudder Congreve wants more muscles, let him go to de wood-pile, and when de clock strikes de hour of unloading a sand-screw. We will now strike de triangle, raise our voices in song, 'n den walk de sev'ral ways to our homes, grateful to de Lawd for de life he has given us."

Married on a Ferry Boat.
 Robert L. Vickers, a justice of the peace of Oregon county, N. C., and John Rich, a plasterer, and Ellen Ferris, a daughter of Rich's employer, on the Jersey City ferry boat Plained yesterday morning, and when the ceremony had started for the New York shore performed the marriage ceremony between them. Rich is 20 years old and lives in that part of Philadelphia known as "the Hollow." He met Ellen Ferris when she brought dinner to her father, and they have been engaged for some time. They are said to have eloped once and to have got as far as Wilmington, Del., before the girl was caught by her father. The girl was taken to Jersey City yesterday, and that the marriage ceremony was performed. A man now lay me down to sleep. "You fellows think you are mighty smart," and straightened out the cover. The minister cast a look reproach at the collectors, and with a disappointed expression, went away. The old man is well.

Common Error in a Common Prayer.
 A writer in the Evangelist has called attention to a small, but very common error which older people, as well as children, make in repeating the familiar little prayer, "Now I lay me down to sleep." Probably there are few persons who do not use the definite article "the" before the word "Lord." He is most amiable and lovely gentleman, and was the vote of Providence precinct.

Ex-Gov. Brogden Caught at Last.
 Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 27.—Ex-Gov. Brogden is about 55. He has been in office nearly all his life, and a saving man, has put up about $40,000. He is most amiable and lovely gentleman, but for thirty years has never seen the woman he would marry. Of course, like all old bachelors, he has some contrivances. Raised on the farm and at the plow handle he was ever religiously prone to overtake a water or a boot, or owning a gun. This was well known of him when Governor of the State. But in his recent term to the Raleigh, N. C., he has been too much for him. He was caught at last. A dashing widow in the Treasury Department, lovely and accomplished, shot the death arrow. It struck home. We learn they are engaged. And such a metamorphosis does Love work that the ex-Governor not only sports a two hundred dollar gold watch, but he has presented his innamorata with a diamond ring worth one hundred and fifty dollars. When involved in the dance money pays the fiddler. The ex-Governor is setting to his partner.

AN INFAMOUS SCOUNDREL.
 A Systematic Plan for the Abduction of Children.
 BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 27.—One of the boldest attempts at abduction was made here on Tuesday afternoon, the facts of which were reported by a young man named Charles E. Schuyler, of Little Falls, N. Y., a telegraph operator, who was sitting at his desk in the office of one of our prominent citizens, while she was attending school, representing that he was employed in the father's office, that his father had been injured by the fall of a building, and that he was sent by him to bring her to him. She accompanied Schuyler to the place where it was represented that his father was lying. On entering a room Schuyler locked the door, seized the young lady, and with a letter in his pocket to keep her a prisoner until a certain sum of money had been paid, forced her to copy the following part of a letter to her father, which he had written:

DEAR PAUL: I ask you to give me $500, for unless he raises that sum within a week I will write a letter to your word and honor that it shall be returned to you in sixty days. For this I have no security to offer you except my own word. I am keeping. He must have this sum immediately—within a week. So long as the money is not paid, I will keep you so long I'll be kindly dealt with, but at the first indication—

At this point she stopped writing and declared that she was not going to raise the required sum and bring it to him. On her swearing to never disclose what had happened she was released. Yesterday she told her father that she had his son Willie, aged six years, in custody, and would release him if he would pay $500. If the sum was not forthcoming the child would be sold for $5,000. Schuyler was held to bail in $5,000 for trial. The case is quite a mystery. # DAILY NEWS

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.
SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1879

How great a matter a little wrongly placed apostrophe kindleth. There is a speck of war at Washington, caused by the announcement of the Boston Post that "Mrs. Senator Call, of Florida, is the youngest of all the Senator's wives, and one of the most beautiful women at the Capitol."

POSTMASTER-GENERAL KEY must now expect to be denounced as an accomplice in the murder of Nix. The fact that Nix was not murdered will not help him. The rational remarks which he Thursday made to a Washington correspondent about the Nix case show him to be a man familiar with shot-guns and acquainted with bulldozing.

While the Republican papers in general, and the New York Tribune in particular, are exercising themselves over the repudiation of bonds in the Southern States, none of them remember Kansas, which has repudiated $5,547,000, and sixteen counties of which refuse to pay the interest on their debt, which alone amounts to $3,546,000; none of them remember Illinois, seventeen counties and five cities of which refuse to pay the interest which has accumulated on their debt to the amount of $8,577,000.

The Republican organs are not satisfied with resumption. On the contrary, the New York Times, by far the most influential, puts forward a demand for the gradual, permanent retirement of the legal tender notes. "There is only one sure way," says the Times, "of disarming the greenbackers and the strictly Democratic leaders who are forever courting them, and that is to retire the greenbacks." And after that, we presume, silver is to be retired for the same reason, and then all foreign trade is to be abolished for the purpose of preventing any arguments or agitation against protection. It is a very pretty programme.

The New York Tribune is trying to make a point against Clarkson N. Potter, by asserting that the vouchers for the $20,000 expended by the Potter Committee are not on file at the Treasury Department. But the resolution under which the committee acted only required that the vouchers should be approved by the House committee on accounts, and, as Mr. Potter asserts in a letter to the Tribune, that he personally examined all the vouchers, with the aid of one of the Republican members of the committee, and that no money was paid in any but strictly legal and legitimate ways, there seems to be no material for a campaign "charge" in the business.

As election day approaches the nervousness of the Ohio Republicans over the prospects becomes too apparent to be concealed. They have deluded their readers so much with extravagant claims that they knew had no actual foundation that they find it somewhat difficult to know just how to undecieve them, but they feel that this must be done in some way. Accordingly they are beginning to caution them against over-confidence, thus paving the way for the claim that Republican neglect of duty affected the result so as to disturb the calculations. The fact is that every Republican vote will be needed; and the indications are that in spite of the very best the party can do Ewing will have a majority. The Republican clatter is like the Chinese warfar, it doesn't hurt any one.

GENERAL TOMB'S AND HIS FEES.

From the Constitution.
There seems to be a disposition on the part of one or two of our State exchequers to make a number of indefinite charges, by insinuation and innuendo, with respect to the fees charged by General Tomb for recovering moneys due to the State by railroads for taxes. It should be borne in mind in this connection that General Tomb was the first man in the State to claim that these taxes were due; that he was the one, in the first instance, to make the issue with the corporations; that for a considerable period he fought no one to aid him; and, finally, that he has already recovered and caused to be paid into the Treasury a sum exceeding $600,000 as the result of his efforts. If he did not charge a fee for his work in this matter, he has wronged himself; if he did charge a fee and collect it, he simply claimed what was justly his due. One thing is certain, the people of Georgia are perfectly willing that he should be paid, for the decision of the issue he has made has opened a new source of revenue to the public treasury and the State will enjoy the benefits thereof long after General Tomb is dead.

It seems to us that if there are any charges to be made against General Tomb in this connection that they should take more substantial shape than insinuation, so that the matter may be fairly and intelligently discussed.

The Fall Elections.

Suppose the Republicans should carry the remaining State elections this fall. It does not by any means follow that they will have a majority on the popular vote, or that the Presidential contest will be materially affected by such a result. Of course success would increase their confidence for the time being and encourage their hopes for the future. The leaders find comfort in very slight blessings.

Maine has been Republican since the organization of the party, and has always been reckoned with as much confidence on that side as Kentucky has been on the other. Last year divisions and discontent led to a defeat of the machine, by a combination of Greenbackers and Democrats. This year the Republicans have partially recovered their lost ground. That is to say, they have regained the Legislature, which elects the Governor and other State officers, there having been no election by the people.

But the old-fashioned majority of ten or twelve thousand, which hardly varied for more than twenty years, has wholly disappeared, and the Republicans are in a minority, small, it is true, yet still a minority of the popular vote. And this is the result after an unexampled canvass, the expenditure of a very large sum of money, the open purchase of votes in the cities, and a resort to every form of trickery known to unscrupulous politicians. Yet Mr. Blaine had the cheerful effrontery to claim a great victory, when barely saved by the skin of his teeth from ignominious defeat.

Ohio is a close State, which may go either way now without any special significance as bearing on the Presidential contest in 1880. A Republican Governor was elected in California a few weeks ago, known to be in sympathy with the mighty corporation that has long ruled the State and to which a great majority of the people are opposed. The Central Pacific managers knew how to divide their opponents and thus to conquer.

The fall elections will settle nothing, and may foreshadow very little, as far as the Presidential question is concerned. The events of the approaching session of Congress will shape that question long before the two National Conventions meet, and will shape it in a way to leave little doubt as to the final issue. The programme of the Republican stalwarts is to force a sectional campaign and to nominate Grant as its exponent. If the Democrats are weak or foolish enough to fall into this trap they will deserve to be beaten. If they are wise and know how to profit by a dearly purchased experience, the way to the White House is open before them.

It may be necessary to run out of the old ruts, and it is indispensable to discard Bourbonism. One thing above all others must be borne in mind if success is desired. The Democratic candidate in his own person, by his antecedents, and by his recognized character, should give the country assurance that in the event of his election there would be an end to sectional agitation.

No other sort of candidate can hope to win, and it is better that the fact should be clearly understood now than when it may be too late.

MR. TILDEN'S OPINIONS.

Hon. Richard T. Merrick's Interview with the President De Jure.

Washington Post.
"In the purported interview," said Hon. Richard T. Merrick to a Post reporter Thursday, "in the Baltimore American, concerning my recent visit to Mr. Tilden, I am misinterpreted. A portion of it I did not say at all, and in other instances expressions purely my own are given as the opinions of Mr. Tilden."

"What did you state as Mr. Tilden's views of the Ohio election?"
"I simply said that he was anxious and solicited the counting-in frauds of the Democracy, but not that it was vital to the Democracy."
"Did Mr. Tilden say anything about any other State election?"
"No."

"Did he say that he felt confident that the effort of the Democracy of New York to crush Tammany would commend the support of many independent Republicans, and that more of this kind would vote for Robinson than Democrats would be drawn off by Kelly?"
"No; that was my own opinion. My visit was before the New York count, and I was not in the field. It will make them a better disciplined set of men."

"Did you lead the correspondent to suppose that Mr. Tilden considers the question of his re-nomination by the next Democratic convention as already settled in his favor?"
"No; I said that in my opinion public sentiment was gravitating toward his re-nomination in 1880."

"Did Mr. Tilden refer to the Presidential campaign of 1876?"
"He merely said that the Democracy would win without a doubt on the issue attending the counting-in frauds of the late Presidential election, and those arising from the late session of Congress."

"Did he refer to himself as all as the nominee or possible nominee in 1880?"
"No."

Those Who Have Received Him.

Philadelphia Press.
General Grant during his famous tour around the globe, now happily ended, was received with distinguished honors by the following Princes, potentates and powers of the earth, besides many others not mentioned: Queen Victoria, of Great Britain; King Leopold, of Belgium; The Khedive of Egypt; The Sultan of Turkey; King Humbert of Italy; Pope Leo XIII.; President MacMahon, of France; The King of Holland; Emperor William, of Germany; Prince Bismarck; King Oscar, of Sweden; The Emperor Alexander, of Russia; The Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria; King Alfonso, of Spain; President Frey, of France; M. Gambetta; Viceroy Lytton, of India; King Theobald, of Burmah; Prince Kung, of China; The Emperor of Siam; The Mikado of Japan.

Three Lively Junketers.

Chicago Times.
General Sherman doesn't understand why President Hayes shouldn't be permitted a good time running about from fair to fair, from pumpkin to pumpkin. A fellow feeling makes the General wondrous kind. He himself is the liveliest junketer to be found in the United States, U. S. G. alone excepted.

Tilden Not a Bit Tired.

Galveston News.
Tilden's persistent refusal to sit down and keep quiet reminds one of the fellow at the circus who would stand up. All the other Presidential candidates in whose way he was, yell out, "Down in front!" but all the blessed old image does is to thank them kindly and protest he isn't a bit tired.

Although the number of bales used South is small, the increase is steady. Georgia will undoubtedly be some day a great manufacturing State, with mills thickly clustered along its streams.

A German Newspaper on John Kelly.

Buffalo Volksfreund.
It is no more true that John Kelly can dispose of the Irish vote than it is that Carl Schurz controls the German vote.

Why Kearney Wilted.

The Oakland Tribune gives the following reason why Dennis Kearney wilted in regard to the Grant effort: "Captain Jack Crawford, the poet scout is a great admirer of General Grant, as of all military men. When he heard of Kearney's threat he became excited and went to Kearney's to interview the "hero of Santa Anna" alone. Nor finding him there, Crawford thrust himself into the following message to Kearney's representatives: 'Tall him that if he ever burns General Grant in effigy, or even attempts to perpetrate that indignity, I will nuke it my individual business to kill him!' Jack's reputation for veracity and skill in the handling of a weapon is good and therefore, Kearney crumpled."

Revenue Troubles.

Charlotte Observer.
Colonel W. H. Chapman, revenue agent for this district of North Carolina, who with a party of men have been making a raid upon illicit distillers in Cleveland county, reports from Shelby under date of the 25th, as follows:

As we were leaving the mountains in the northern part of Cleveland county last Monday night, we were fired upon by persons concealed by the roadside in woods. We returned the fire, nobody was hurt. We returned to the mountain next morning and continued the search, finding three or more illicit distillers with a large lot of meal mash, seven gallons of beer and fifty of whiskey. We made one arrest."

Mrs. Langtry.

Baltimore Sun Letter.
And what from London? Well, that faded "Lersey Lily," Mrs. Langtry, is out again willing in the twilight of her spurious loveliness. If she goes to America the thousand prettier girls and wives of mechanics and laborers will laugh her into his. Her beauty is a sham and folly. It is a placard and photograph in every style, like oysters on half-shell and no shell! Poor husband!

It is prepared from bark, roots and herbs, each of which is highly effective, and they are compounded in such a manner as to produce astonishing results."

L. R. WYATT,

GOSSIP FOR THE LADIES.

The Violet.

Lonely and sweet a violet grew
The meadow weeds among,
One morn a rosy shepherd maid,
With careless heart and idle tread,
Came by,
Came by,
The meadow lands and sung.

"Ah," said the violet, "would I were
Some stately garden flower!
That I might gather I beand pressed
One little hour to her sweet breast.
Ah, me!
Ah, me!
Only one little hour!"

On came the rosy shepherd lass,
With heart that idly beat
And crushed the violet in the grass,
It only said, "How sweet!
How sweet!" it said with fainting
moan.

"If I must die, to die alone
For her,
To die at her dear feet,"
—London Society.

The panier mantle is one of the newest designs in wraps, and is made of the handsomest materials. The most fashionable handkerchiefs for neck wear are in rich
Persian colors in palm-leaf design.

Black canvas belts are seen in all widths and will probably supplant the white surcingle belts worn this Summer.

Long, square coat tails are again seen on some of the latest costumes and are even supposed to be suitable for full dress.

Lace will be more in favor this Winter than for a number of seasons past.
A favorite way of trimming with it will be in jabots.

The low crowned Derby hats with the brim closely rolled at the sides are much worn by ladies this Fall and the use of them is no longer confined to young girls.

Mrs. Shoddy lately puckered up her mouth gently, and told a gentleman friend that one of her lovely daughters is a "blunnet," and the other a "bronze."
New York Star.

He asked her: "Going away?" "Yes;
going to the sea baths." "What! in such chilly weather as this?" "You will never go into the water?" "Oh, yes I will; I'm all fixed up for that." "Readily?" "Yes; I've had all my bathing dresses trimmed with fur."

It is rather a novel, if not unprecedented thing, for a grandmother to attend the school taught by her young lady granddaughter. Such is the case, however, near Bellefonte, Ala., for Mrs. Daniel Martin, having arrived at the age of sixteen, having been married four years, goes to school to her step-granddaughter.

Union parties are popular in Tusca-roosa. Six young ladies take an onion with them into a room and one of the number takes a bite of it. Then a young gentleman is admitted, and after kissing all of them, if he fails to tell which one of them bit the "onion,"
the girls are all of them compelled to kiss him. —Virginia (New) Enterprise.

Now smoked pearl buttons are exquisitely carved in curious and pretty designs, some bearing a tiny house surrounded with shrubbery; others a bird, a flower, or a branch with a tiny bird's-nest filled with eggs. All of these are finely cut to show the variety of tints in smoked pearl.

A Yorkshire trainer lately revealed
his method of meeting a conjugal storm.
His plan, he said, was to keep silent and nod his acquiescence to everything—no matter what—said by his spouse. "Yes," remarked one of his friends; "but then she has it all her own way." "Just so," replied the Tyke, with satisfaction; "and nothing annoys her so much. There is nothing women hate like a walk-over."

Beautifiers.
Ladies, you cannot make fair skin,
rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes with all the cosmetics of France, or beautifiers of the world, while in poor health, and nothing will give you such good health, strength, buoyant spirits and beauty as Hop Bitters. A trial is certain proof. — See another column.

Humor on a Child
Since Birth Cured, after faithful Medical Treatment had failed.
Messrs. Weeks & Forster, Gentlemen,
My little son, two years of age, has had a humor on one side of his face, which has spread over the entire side of the face,
the child ear, and the head. The humor
has itched and irritated him a great deal,
as he scratched the surface all the time,
no matter what was applied. I used many remedies by advice of friends and my physician without benefit. Hop Bitters, however, immediately allayed the itching
and inflammation, and entirely cured
him. Respectfully, J. L. B. L. L. L.

With Walworth Manufacturing Co.
BOSTON, April 10, 1893.
NOTE: Once cured, the skin may be rendered soft and fair by using the Cuticura Soap exclusively for toilet or nursery purposes.

CHILDREN AND INFANTS.
More Cures of Skin and Scalp Affections by the Cuticura Remedies.
Fred. Koller, Esq., Cashier Stock Growers' National Bank, Pueblo, Colo. ad-vrites: "I am so well pleased with its effects on my baby, that I cannot afford to be without it in my house. It is a wonderful cure, and is bound to become very popular as soon as its virtues are known to the masses."

J. S. Weeks, Esq., Town Treasurer, St.
Albans, Vt., says in a letter dated May 28:
"It works to charm on my baby's face and head. Cured the head entirely, and has nearly cleared the face of sores. I have recommended it to several, and it has been ordered for them."

M. M. Chick, Esq., at Franklin, Boston, says: "My little daughter, eighteen months old, has what the doctors call Eczema. We have tried most everything, and have used Cuticura, and she is almost a new child, and we feel very happy."

Prickly Heat.
Incidental to the Texas Climate.
Messrs. Weeks & Forster: Gentlemen,
Enclosed please find one dollar for a large box of CUTICURA. The small one that I received some time ago has been very effec-tuous, especially in Prickly Heat or Rash,
as some people call it. I am most truly,
Yours truly, THOMAS W. BUCKLEY.
CUBA, Texas, Sept. 22, 1893.

CUTICURA is the most valuable external application. It breaks all crusts, restores the hair when destroyed by scalp diseases, removes dandruff and keeps the scalp clean and the hair soft and pliable. It is as agreeable as it is effective, and is easily absorbed, in every case by the CUTICURA SOAP, which is particularly recommended to mothers for cleaning the skin and scalp of infants and children. It is as effective as medicinal,
and is the most fragrant and refreshing Soap for the nursery and bath of any these preparations.

Parents have our assurance that these remedies contain nothing injurious to the youngest infant, evidence of which may be found in the certificates of Dr. Hayes and Prof. Merrick accompanying each remedy.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Forster, Chemists and Druggists, 399 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of Cuticura, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes
$1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. Cuticura Soap,
2 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes,
75 cents.

They destroy all tendency to inflammation by drawing from
the system morbid or
unwholesome matter,
thus preventing or curing Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Sciatica. Worn over the pit of the stomach, they prevent Acute and Liver Pains, Inflammation of the Liver and Kidneys, Bilious Colic, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Cramps, and Pains.

TUTT'S PILLS

SYMPTOMS OF A TORPID LIVER.

Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Pain in the Head, with a dull sensation in the back bones after eating, with a disinclination to exercise of body or mind, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, with a feeling of heaviness in the chest, Yellow Skin, Headache
generally over the right eye, Headaches
with faint dreams, highly colored Urine.
IF THESE WARNINGS ARE UNDETERRED, SERIOUS DISEASES WILL SOON BE DEVELOPED.

TUTT'S PILLS are especially adapted to such cases, one dose effects such a change of feeling as to astonish the sufferer.

Only with regularity of the bowels can perfect health be enjoyed. If the constipation is of recent date, a single dose of TUTT'S PILLS will suffice, but if it has become habitual, one pill should be taken every day, gradually lessening the frequency of the dose until a regular movement is obtained, which will soon follow.

Dr. J. Lewis, Fulton, Ark., says:
"After a practice of 25 years, I pronounce TUTT'S PILLS the best anti-bilious medicine
ever made."

Rev. F. R. Osmond, New York, says:
"I have had Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach and Nervousness. I never had any medicine to do me so much good as TUTT'S PILLS. They are as good as a godsend."

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED
STOMACH
BITTERS

Fever and Ague is most common in the spring, but most severe in the fall and winter. It is strictly a malarious disease, and so surely as the individual who contracts it takes a single dose of Hostetter's Bitters, and adheres to its use, he will be exempted from all its pains and penalties. Add to this its value as a stomachic and anti-bilious agent, and who will venture to gainsay its claims to the first place among family medicines.
